

Woolworths' Gold takes Christmas as its design cue

22 November 2016

Comments

Design company Boxer & Co. worked with Woolworths on a fresh look for the grocery chain's premium Gold brand in the lead-up to Christmas.

Repositioned as a seasonal offering for customers, Gold has taken on a celebratory look which makes food the centre of Christmas, according to Woolworths' Gold brand manager Olivia Hadlow.

For the redesign, Boxer & Co. was inspired by the idea of 'magical moments' and included firework and confetti-inspired shapes.

The team offset a modern colour palette with premium gold foiling and a matte varnish finish.

A lime-coloured 'seal' houses the new Gold icon, and is a staple feature across all categories, according to Boxer & Co.

The products take the Christmas season as their cue, with hero elements including a celebratory burst.

The new Gold offering includes premium biscuits, confectionery, artisanal meats, and luxurious puddings.

Newsletter Signup

Sign-up to receive the weekly email newsletter highlighting our best content.

Sign-up

